Modern Problems in Protection of Human Rights

Topic Overview

Human Rights protection is one of the important out of ones facing the modern world. It impedes the development of the country and what is most scary its target is population. Human right protection is the global, regional and state government level issue. Due to these reasons it relates to everybody and proves to be problem internationally. Building democracy and justice in the country greatly depends on stable protection of persons’ constitutional rights and fundamental freedoms. Violation of human rights creates grounds for destabilization and impedes social and demographic improvements that in the end result creates risks for regional and global security.

Judging by these facts the issue is of great importance and requires comprehensive scientific approach and elaboration of preventive recommendations.

To deal with this problem Tbilisi David Aghmashenebeli University targets on elaboration of complex and effective strategy to prevent violation of human rights. For this purpose Tbilisi David Aghmashenebeli University aims at establishment of international cross university scientific and expertise centre. The first step taken in this direction was establishment of the legal clinic within the University that in its scientific studies and recommendation development phases involves students contributions as well. The functions of the clinic are:

1. Obtaining and analyzing historic materials and surveys from Georgia and worldwide in the field of human rights protection;

2. Studying and analyzing the governmental and nongovernmental decrees, orders and special programs in the field of human rights protection and their implementation throughout the last decade;

3. Surveying experts for developing proposals and recommendations in the field of human rights protection;
   - Studying and generalization of European experience of the field;
   - Based of above analysis elaborating the general preventive actions system and ensuring its implementation.

Conference participants will visit historical sights in Tbilisi, Sighnaghi, Mtskheta and Gori

Tbilisi - Capital of Georgia is situated on both banks of the river Mtkvari. Population more than 1,090 mln. The city is built on one of the routes of historical Silk Road and has important trade and transit location. According to legend Tbilisi territory was covered with woods. The king Vakhtang I Gorgasali’s falcon allegedly injured a pheasant during the hunt, after which both birds fell into a nearby hot spring and died from burns. Impressed by hot springs and desirable location the King Vakhtang decided to cut down the forest and build a city on the location. The name 'Tbilis'i ('Tbili' means warm in Georgian ) was therefore given to the city because of the area’s numerous sulphuric hot springs.

Sighnaghi – ancient town of Georgia. Located on a hill for defense reasons. The city is surrounded by fortress to shelter the population from tribesmen attacks. Nowadays Sighnagi is one of the most beautiful cities of Georgia due to its unique architecture so as its outstanding location: situated on the hill and facing vast Alazani Valley and Caucasus mountains.

Gori – located near Tbilisi. The name originated from the hill (“Gora”) on which the ancient fortress is located. Main sights of Gori are: Gori Fortress, Gori Main Cathedral, Theater, historic-ethnographic museum, Stalin and Kamo musums. In suburbs of Gori there is balneological resort Gorijvari, stone city Uflistsikhe and ancient Christian cathedral Ateni Sioni.
